

A Summer of Cultural Enrichment and Community Connection

Attendees of the Mini Journey to Fort Flagler during July 2024. The trip was organized by the Culture Department in partnership with the Port Gamble S'Klallam Canoe Family along with sister tribes, Jamestown and Lower Elwha

By Laura Price

Director, Cultural Resources Department

The Cultural Resources Department has had a productive and enriching summer, marked by a series of successful initiatives and events that have brought our community closer together and deepened our connection to our heritage.

One of the highlights of our summer was the completion of the third S'Klallam Living Language Program Cohort. Over the last three months, we held 15 language classes, fostering a strong sense of pride and continuity in our linguistic heritage. This program was truly a labor of love, and we would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Brooke Wellman, Chris Jones, Karron McGrady, Joe Price, ECEP staff and all our dedicated students who made this program a resounding success. Keep an eye out for our upcoming community gathering and resource sharing event later this month!

In addition to our language program, we successfully facilitated three cedar harvesting events. Twelve families and citizens participated, engaging in harvesting, processing, and teaching their children about this vital tradition. Cedar is deeply woven into our connection to the land and integral to our cultural practices. This initiative was made possible through the diligent efforts of our Tribal Historic Preservation Officer, Misty Ives, who has maintained a strong relationship with Rayonier. The forest management company, preparing to clear the area soon, invited the tribe to gather resources beforehand, ensuring we could utilize and honor these valuable cedars.

These events underscore our commitment to cultural preservation and community involvement. We look forward to continuing these efforts and invite our community to participate and support our programs. We value your input and ideas. If you have any suggestions, please reach out to Culture Program Manager Alicia Fulton at aliciaf@pgst.nsn.us.

With the change in the Canoe Journey 2024 plans, the Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe Canoe Family elected to focus on strengthening and healing within our community and with our cousins, while learning more about our sacred and traditional gathering places.

Kevin Theodore “KJ” Jones

Hopi Cheelth

September 9, 1954 - July 21, 2024

Kevin Theodore Jones, also known as KJ, was born on September 9, 1954, to Robert E. and Lillian L. Jones, of Bremerton, WA., He passed away on July 21, 2024, peacefully, surrounded by his family.

Kevin was a self-employed carver, and an enrolled member of the Port Gamble S’Klallam Tribe in Kingston, WA. He graduated from Neah Bay High School and later moved to Little Boston with his mom, dad and siblings.

He loved cheering on his Seahawks, sketching and carving, going to the casino, buying scratch tickets, and cruising the rez. He had a contagious smile, which he was quick to flash at all the pretty women he met. He had a quick wit and wonderful sense of humor, always making friends and family laugh. He was generous with his time, his carvings, and his talents, often gifting people his handmade treasures. He loved spending time with family, eating good food, and sharing stories. Anyone who knew him, knew to keep candy on hand, as he had a very strong sweet tooth.

The family would like to thank his dear friends, including Ray “Du” Ives, the late Joe Ives, Terry Seachord, Pat Ives, Deb Carpenter, Ben Ives, and his care providers: Dr. Luke McDaniels, Sarah Shaw, Taylor Pursuer, Molly Knowlton, Jamie Aikman and the entire health care teams of the Port Gamble S’Klallam Health Clinic and Saint Michaels Medical Center.

Housing Celebrates Phase One of Warrior Ridge Neighborhood

Housing Director, Kara Horton, addresses investors and guests from HUD at the Warrior Ridge celebration

On Friday, July 12, Housing held a Grand Opening event for Phase I of Warrior Ridge.

While tenants started moving in late 2023 and the neighborhood is now at 100% occupancy, this was an opportunity to celebrate welcoming PGST families home to the development and look forward to Phase II, which will include an additional 30 units. The event included a tour for investors followed by a block party for tenants and the PGST community with food, games, and music. The event was sponsored by Raymond James, Clark Construction, and Blue Architecture + Interiors.

Phase I of Warrior Ridge included 30 total units, including 15 one-bedroom apartments (595 sq ft), eight one-bedroom duplexes (569 sq ft), and seven two-bedroom cottages (685 sq ft). Units feature wood laminate flooring, energy-efficient appliances, picture windows, and contemporary design features like barn doors separating bedrooms and living spaces. All units are occupied by PGST members who are low-income and pay rent based on their income.

Warrior Ridge was funded by several sources, including Affordable Trust Funds, the Affordable Housing Program (a Federal Home Loan Bank through Kitsap Bank), the Indian Community Development Block Grant, and investments from Raymond James, 1st Security Bank, and First Federal Savings & Loan.

Phase II of Warrior Ridge is underway and expected to be move-in ready by Spring 2025.

WARRIOR RIDGE PHASE II

This initiative kicked off with our Healing Pull at Port Gamble Bay. The community shared songs, prayers and a meal together, encouraging newcomers to board the canoe and heal on the water after the many losses our community has faced. Recognizing the need to come together and let our loved ones walk on in peace, this event was a beautiful demonstration of community solidarity and support.

The second initiative was the Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe Canoe Family participation in the Mini-Journey to Fort Flagler with our sister tribes, Jamestown and Lower Elwha. We spent the weekend circumnavigating Indian Island by canoe, landing at sacred sites and learning about origin stories with our youth and elders. This precious time spent with our sister tribes helps strengthen our cultural ties and unification. It was a weekend of connection, fun, feasting, and adventure enjoyed by all who attended. Thanks to all our volunteers including Friends of Fort Flagler, Washington State Parks, Jamestown Culture Program, and special shout out to our community members and friends; George Jones, Joe Price, Matt Ives, Lisa and Drew McDonald, Tony Steiner, Bill Kalina, Sara Street, Josh Woods, the NR Enforcement team, and all who participated and pitched in to make the occasion very special. \0/

We also successfully supported the hosting of our fellow seafaring Tribal canoe families this year. With 19 canoes full of hungry pullers on their way to Puyallup, we enjoyed a wonderful day welcoming to shore and a night of cultural enrichment. Our longhouse was filled with songs and laughter well into the late hours. It was inspiring to have our Youth step in to leadership roles welcoming canoes ashore and with longhouse protocols. Our hands go up in gratitude for the support in making this year a success. Special thanks to Gene Jones, Joey Fulton, Max Nigeria, George Sparks Sr, Rayna Espinosa-Ives, Randy Wellman, Jacki Haight, Parker Jones, Xavier Jones, Kyle Swanson, Jodi Fulton, lead coordinator, Carmen George, Lenore Edwards, Roxanne Hockett, Jenn Tom, Justyn Purser, Joe Price, Hawa Tunkara, Shyla Purser, Alexandria Bowechop, Karleigh Gomez, Erica Hankin, Jordan Caldera, George Sparks, Lavonne Tom, Faith Tom, Joanne Tom, Jolene Sullivan, Clara George, Savannah Fulton, Trisha (JST), Joseph Ives Jr, Matt Ives, George Jones, Julia Garza, Gina Steiner, Melia Moore, Megan Beckwith, Donna Jones, Bridget Young, Tad Sooter, Annie Strandberg, Brenda Anderson, Miranda Smith, Josh Woods, Chris Brumpton, and many other Canoe Family, PGST Staff, Noo-kayet Crew.

Fall General Council: Saturday, October 5

Fall General Council is scheduled for Saturday, October 5. The meeting will begin at 9 am with breakfast at 8 am.

If you would like to submit an agenda request, please get it in by Friday, September 13 at 4:30 pm. Forms can be found from the Front Desk.

All PGST members who are able to attend are encouraged to make time to do so. Meeting a quorum ensures the business of the Tribe, including adoptions, can move forward.

Expanded Enrollment Eligibility: Applications Now Being Accepted

Fall General In June, after a vote by PGST members, Title 25 of the Law & Order Code was amended to reflect new Constitutional language expanding automatic enrollment to individuals who, at the time of their birth, had a parent who was an enrolled PGST member and a resident of the reservation (and other PGST tribal lands) OR Kitsap, Clallam, Jefferson, Mason, or San Juan counties.

While those born after the amendment will be automatically enrolled, those meeting the criteria before the amendment must complete an enrollment application, which can be found at <https://pgst.nsn.us/tribal-records-enrollment/>.

Those apply for enrollment under the new amendment are encouraged to make sure that their application is complete and that all required supporting paperwork is submitted. This will help to ensure the application is processed as efficiently as possible.

The Point Continues to Cash PGST Checks

A recent revision to The Point Casino's check cashing policy pulled back from cashing all third party checks, except those drawn on any PGST account. Payroll and other checks of totals $5,000 and under written from Port Gamble S'Klallam government, Noo-Kayet Investments, Gliding Eagle Market, and Noo-Kayet Gaming Corporation accounts will continue to be cashed.

Other third party checks, including those from fisheries or state and federal agencies cannot be cashed at The Point under the new policy.

PORT GAMBLE MILL SITE CLEANUP AND RESTORATION UPDATE

Pope Resources announced today that the cleanup and restoration process of the former Pope & Talbot saw mill site and adjacent in-water areas in Port Gamble Bay will be initiated in June 2024 and active construction is expected to be complete by mid-year 2025. The cleanup and restoration activities will include the restoration of the southern part of the mill site's shoreline and the western bay nearshore habitat. These activities will be performed pursuant to two consent decrees dated 2020 and 2024 between Pope Resources, state and federal agencies, and local stakeholders to restore the former mill site.
